Criel Merino: On the number of spanning trees and acyclic orientations of a graph

We examined the following conjecture: If $G$ is a 2-connected graph with no loops, then either the number of acyclic orientations or the number of the totally cyclic orientations of $G$ is bigger than the number of spanning trees of $G$. 